

Harold Weir

Purple Heart Veteran

*Click picture for podcast interview

Harold Weir

U.S. Army Staff Sergeant Harold Weir served in Europe during World War II. He was struck eight times by enemy fire, but survived his wounds, subsequent capture, and five months as a POW in the infamous Stalag 17 before receiving a Purple Heart. A mix of a past interview and a conversation with his daughter.

Want to know more?

- LOC Veterans History Project
- Americans Returning from POW Camps Suffered from PTSD
- Stalag 17
- Purple Heart History
- Guests of the Third Reich
- World War 2 Veteran Lived Life as Quiet Hero

If you would like to write to a veteran to reach out to opedteam@honorflightchicago.com for details.